Corporate Governance Statement

Better together for 100 years

Overview

Corporate governance at Woolworths Group

Good corporate governance is central to our approach to creating sustainable growth and enhancing long-term shareholder value. Woolworths Group Limited (Woolworths Group or the Group) is committed to high standards of corporate governance.

Our purpose of we create better experiences together for a better tomorrow shapes our commitment to better meet the needs of our customers, team members, suppliers, communities and shareholders.

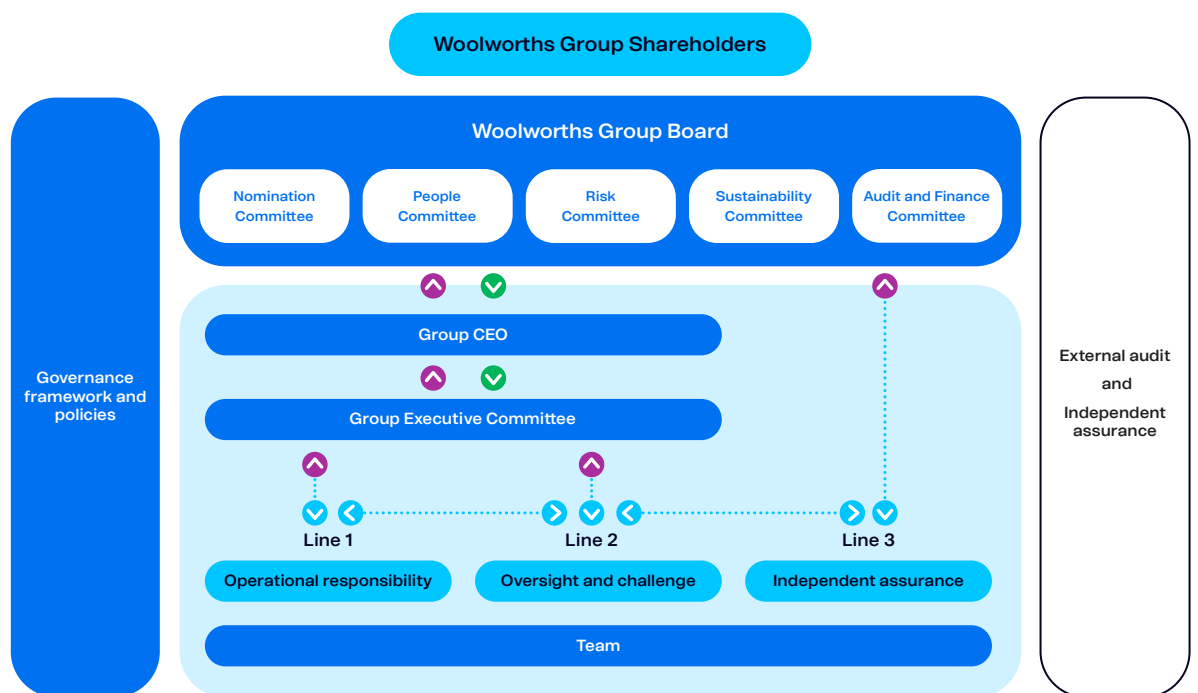

Directors and team members are expected to act ethically and responsibly at all times, reflecting our core value of we do the right thing.

Compliance with ASX Corporate Governance Principles

This Statement describes Woolworths Group’s corporate governance framework, including the key policies and practices which form part of our framework, for the reporting period through to the date of this statement. It has been approved by the Woolworths Group Board and is dated 28 August 2024. Woolworths Group has followed each of the recommendations of the ASX Corporate Governance Council’s Corporate Governance Principles and Recommendations (fourth edition) (ASX Principles).

Further information about Woolworths Group’s corporate governance framework and key governance documents referred to in this statement can be found in the corporate governance section of our website at www.woolworthsgroup.com.au.

Corporate governance framework

Key: Accountability and reporting Delegation and oversight Three lines of accountability (3LoA)

Board of Directors

The Board’s role is to govern and act in the best interests of Woolworths Group now and sustainably for the future; to represent and serve the interests of shareholders by overseeing and appraising the Group’s strategies, policies and performance, and to challenge, and hold management accountable, where appropriate.

The Board is conscious that sustainable growth delivery and enhancement of long-term shareholder value involves building and maintaining the trust and goodwill of the Group’s shareholders, customers, team members, suppliers and each of the communities in which Woolworths Group operates.

Each director’s biographical information, including their relevant experience, the capabilities and skills they bring to the Board and a list of other directorships held, is included on pages 72 to 74 in the 2024 Annual Report.

Our purpose, values and ways-of-working

Woolworths Group is a purpose-led organisation. Our purpose, we create better experiences together for a better tomorrow, was endorsed by the Board and creates the framework for how we operate. We believe it best serves the interests of our customers, our team, the communities in which we operate, and our shareholders.

We are focused on our decisions and actions reinforcing our purpose, supported by our ways-of-working, and underpinned by our core values.

Woolworths Group seeks to embed and evolve our purpose and values in our teams and operations.

Who we are, and what sets us apart, is anchored by our core values which we expect everyone at Woolworths Group to role model on an individual and ongoing basis. Our ways-of-working are how we aspire to work together end-to-end as one team which we continue to embed across the Group. Applying these core values to everything we do defines our behaviour and drives our ambition to be a trustworthy, innovative and responsible organisation.

Led by our purpose, the Group will continue to work to strengthen relationships with various communities by listening to understand, and by having meaningful and equitable engagement.

Bringing it together

Woolworths Group's remuneration framework incorporates our ways-of-working into our performance goals for all team members. This helps to align team member performance and behaviours to the Group's purpose, and strategy as it evolves over time. The remuneration framework considers each team member's contribution to the Group's culture, expressed as our ways-of-working and core values.

Our Group purpose and values are also critical in managing expectations and standards of behaviour. The Board plays a significant role in setting the expectations of our team by monitoring that there are consequences for inappropriate conduct.

The People Committee oversees the Group's consequence management practices and malus policy, and assessment of financial and non-financial risks when determining variable remuneration outcomes. The Board has the power to apply discretion to all variable remuneration elements.

Policies

Code of conduct

Our code of conduct, approved by the Board, applies to all directors, team members, contractors and everyone working within Woolworths Group and sets out, amongst other things, the standards in accordance with which they are expected to act. Our code is also mandatory and should be adhered to without exception, and we expect each and every one of our team members to adopt it as their own.

The code of conduct confirms expected standards of honesty, integrity and fair dealing by all team members in their interaction with customers, suppliers, the community, competitors and each other in the performance of their duties and responsibilities. Material breaches or conduct that is materially inconsistent with the expected outcomes in the code involving senior executives are reported to the Board where appropriate.

The code of conduct was reviewed and updated in September 2022 and is available in the corporate governance section of our website at www.woolworthsgroup.com.au.

Inclusion and belonging policy

The Group's inclusion and belonging policy is centred around our commitment to creating a diverse, equitable and inclusive workplace where diversity is valued in all forms and our team members feel safe and have a sense of belonging. We recognise the value our team's diversity brings to our business, our customers and the communities in which we operate.

Woolworths Group's inclusion and belonging policy was approved in July 2023 and is available in the corporate governance section of our website at www.woolworthsgroup.com.au.

Speak Up policy

At Woolworths Group we encourage all of our team members and suppliers to speak up when something is not right, in line with our core value of always doing the right thing.

Speak Up is Woolworths Group's complaints handling service hosted by an external company. The service is open to all current and former Woolworths Group team members, as well as their families, both in Australia and overseas. Our Speak Up policy also contains information and processes for protected disclosures and whistleblowing. Woolworths Group also has a dedicated Speak Up service for suppliers to ensure matters of concern across our supply chain can be raised independently and confidentially.

Woolworths Group's Speak Up policy was reviewed and updated in February 2024. The Speak Up policy is available in the corporate governance section of our website at www.woolworthsgroup.com.au.

Fraud, anti-bribery and corruption policy

Woolworths Group is committed to conducting business in an honest and ethical manner and to maintaining a high standard of integrity in all of our dealings with customers, team members, suppliers and trade partners.

Our fraud, anti-bribery and corruption policy addresses the key principles that must be adhered to in regard to fraud, bribery and corruption, facilitation payments, gifts and entertainment, and political donations.

Woolworths Group's fraud, anti-bribery and corruption policy was reviewed and updated in April 2023 and is available in the corporate governance section of our website at www.woolworthsgroup.com.au.

Other policies

In addition to the code of conduct, inclusion and belonging policy, Speak Up policies and fraud, anti-bribery and corruption policy, the Group has a range of policies that define its commitment to good corporate governance and responsible business practices.

There are also numerous activities and compliance programs across the Group designed to promote and encourage the responsibility and accountability of individuals for reporting unethical practices.

Risk management and assurance

Woolworths Group is committed to maintaining an effective system to proactively manage risk in accordance with relevant legislation, regulatory obligations, shareholder expectations and good corporate governance principles. Defining material risks, risk appetite and associated management plans, focuses both on harm minimisation as well as benefit maximisation.

Material business risks

Woolworths Group is exposed to a range of emerging, strategic and operational risks associated with a dynamic and changing retail environment and global landscape.

A summary of the Group's material business risks and our approach to risk management is set out on pages 62 to 69 of the 2024 Annual Report. Further disclosures in relation to our sustainability risks will be set out in our 2024 Sustainability Report together with our Taskforce on Climate-related Financial Disclosures (TCFD) content in the 2024 Annual Report.

Risk management oversight

The risk management framework is reflected in our corporate governance framework on page 2 of this Statement, providing an overview of risk governance and management at Woolworths Group together with key responsibilities of the Board, the Risk Committee, the Group Executive Committee, the Group's risk community, internal audit and business leaders. The Group applies a three lines of accountability model approach to managing risk and compliance obligations.

Risk appetite, and risk management policy and framework

Woolworths Group has a risk appetite statement which has been reviewed and adopted by the Board most recently in July 2024. The risk appetite statement identifies various categories of material risks faced by Woolworths Group and sets out the level of risk that Woolworths Group is prepared to accept in pursuing its strategic objectives.

To guide our risk management against the expectations of the risk appetite statement, Woolworths Group has a risk management policy, risk management framework and risk assessment standard (risk standard). These documents provide a sound framework for managing the Group's risks and are reviewed annually.

The risk management policy reflects the overall principles of Woolworths Group's approach to risk management, including roles and responsibilities.

The risk management framework, which has regard to the ISO:31000 Risk Management Standard, sets out our commitment and approach to identifying, assessing, responding to, managing and reporting risks that could impact the Group's ability to meet strategic objectives and operating plans. It also includes how the Group manages risks in accordance with relevant regulations, standards and guidelines, including the ASX Principles and Recommendations. It outlines the Group's commitment and approach to ongoing, integrated and consistent risk management, including how we are evolving our emerging and strategic risk framework.

The risk standard supports the risk management framework and includes the Group risk assessment criteria. It provides guidance for risk escalation protocols and proposed risk review frequencies and is used by risk owners, business leaders and subject matter experts to assess all risks across the Group. The risk standard enables senior executives, the Board and its Committees to have clear oversight of material and emerging risks.

Woolworths Group looks to continually identify and implement opportunities to improve the risk management framework and risk standard. During the reporting period, a review of the Group risk policies and frameworks was undertaken. The reviewed risk appetite statement, risk management policy and risk management framework were presented to the Risk Committee and approved by the Board.

Our risk management approach has:

- a sound system of risk oversight, management and internal control
- clear roles, accountabilities and responsibilities for managing risk
- scenario planning and modelling to support an understanding of the impact of emerging risks
- a risk culture supported by structures and processes
- a method to prioritise and manage material risks.

External auditor

Deloitte Touche Tohmatsu (Deloitte) is Woolworths Group's external auditor. The Audit and Finance Committee makes recommendations to the Board on the selection, appointment, re-appointment or replacement of the external auditor. The external audit appointment is formally reviewed every three years and performance reviewed annually. The Board confirmed Deloitte's reappointment as external auditor in 2023.

Deloitte has provided the required independence declaration to the Board for F24. The independence declaration forms part of the Directors' Report in the 2024 Annual Report.

The lead audit partner attends the AGM and is available to answer questions from shareholders relevant to the external audit.

Non-audit services

Woolworths Group has a non-audit services policy that sets out the types of permitted non-audit services that are not considered to represent a threat to the independence of the external auditor, and provides guidance on the pre-approval process to be followed prior to engaging the external audit firm to provide any non-audit service. The pre-approval process may require joint approval by the Chief Financial Officer (CFO) and the Chair of the Audit and Finance Committee depending on the non-audit fee thresholds and guidelines set out in the policy.

Details of the non-audit services provided by the external auditor over the reporting period are included in the 2024 Annual Report.

Woolworths Group's non-audit services policy was reviewed and updated in August 2023.

Internal audit

Woolworths Group has an independent internal audit function (Group Internal Audit) with a functional reporting line to the Chair of the Audit and Finance Committee and a day-to-day operational reporting line to the CFO. Group Internal Audit provides independent and objective assurance services to management and the Board in relation to the internal controls, risk management framework, and governance and operational processes of Woolworths Group through:

- performing audits in accordance with an internal audit plan. The plan is formulated using a risk-aligned approach and approved annually by the Audit and Finance Committee
- having direct access, and being accountable, to the Board through the Audit and Finance Committee, with the right to communicate to it in the absence of management
- regular reporting to the Audit and Finance Committee on the results of its audits and periodic reporting on the internal audit activity's purpose, authority, responsibility, and performance relative to the internal audit plan.

The Audit and Finance Committee reviews and approves the internal audit charter every two years. It also reviews the performance of the General Manager of internal audit and the internal audit function annually.

Woolworths Group's internal audit charter was reviewed and updated in May 2023.

Integrity in financial and corporate reporting

The Board received CEO and CFO certifications in relation to the reporting period that complied with applicable regulatory requirements for the half-year and full year financial and corporate reports.

A thorough review process is undertaken to validate Woolworths Group corporate reports prior to public release, including the full year reports and half year reports. The review process includes:

- an internal verification process conducted by the content owners then second peer reviews, with key information validated back to the source by the responsible internal teams within the Group
- engagement of an external proofreader to review documents with the aim of detecting any errors or identifying inconsistencies or transposition errors within and between documents
- an external assurance process where appropriate, conducted by an independent third party. Any material announcements require additional review and approval by the Board and/or the Disclosure Committee.

Board responsibilities

The roles and responsibilities of the Board, including the matters that are specifically reserved to the Board, are set out in the Board Charter, as reviewed and approved by the Board. Key elements of the Board's roles and responsibilities are:

- approve the Group's purpose, ways-of-working, core values, and monitor its culture
- review the Group's strategic direction and approve corporate strategy and business plans
- review and approve the Group's approach to safety, health and wellbeing issues
- oversee the Group's commitment to ESG matters, the ESG impact of the Group's activities and operations, and monitor compliance with the Group's responsibilities and practices
- oversee the Group's relationship with, and communications to, its shareholders
- approve the annual budget, capital expenditure plan, three-year financial plan, and monitor the financial performance of the Group
- approve the risk appetite statement, oversee the identification of material financial and non-financial risks, approve the risk management framework and systems, and monitor the efficiency and effectiveness of those systems
- review and approve the Group's half-yearly and annual financial statements and ESG reporting. Monitor and review management processes for the integrity of financial and other reporting
- determine Board size and composition and evaluate the performance of the Board and individual directors on an annual basis
- review and approve the appointment, performance and termination of the Chief Executive Officer (CEO). On recommendation from the CEO, review and approve the appointment, remuneration, performance and termination of Group Executive direct reports
- oversee Board, CEO and executive succession and remuneration, and set non-executive director remuneration
- monitor the conduct of the Group's relationship with key regulators and its compliance with the Group's regulatory obligations
- approve major expenditure and capital initiatives in excess of the authority levels delegated to the CEO
- review and approve the Group's corporate governance policies and practices.

Relationship between the Board and CEO

The Board has delegated authority to execute the Board approved strategy and for the day-to-day management of Woolworths Group to the CEO. The CEO is accountable to the Board in exercising this delegated authority.

The non-executive directors of the Board regularly convene non-executive director sessions without the CEO or management present.

Chair

The Board appointed Scott Perkins as Chair of the Board, effective 26 October 2022. The Chair is independent and non-executive. The Chair's overarching responsibilities are to provide appropriate leadership to the Board and Woolworths Group and to ensure the Board fulfils its obligations under the Board Charter. Specific responsibilities of the Chair include:

- representing the Board to shareholders and communicating the Board's position
- promoting constructive and respectful relationships and communications between the Board and management through the CEO
- leading the Board, including encouraging a culture of openness, facilitating constructive discussion and debate during Board meetings
- agreeing and reviewing development plans of non-executive directors
- monitoring the contribution of individual directors and providing regular feedback on their performance and effectiveness.

The performance of the Chair is reviewed every year by the Board, with the assistance of feedback compiled through an externally facilitated process.

Board capability, composition and tenure

The Board is composed of a majority of independent non-executive directors with the skills and capabilities to fulfil their duty to act in the best interests of Woolworths Group. The effective application of those skills and capabilities enables the Board’s contribution to the decision making and governance of the Group. The Board is comprised of individuals with both relevant skills and capabilities, and diversity of thinking. When combined with management, this leads to Woolworths Group fulfilling its potential through living its purpose, observing its values and executing on its strategy.

As part of the ongoing succession planning for the Board, the Nomination Committee reviewed the Board capability matrix, which took into consideration the skills and capabilities that the Board currently requires, together with those needed in the future. An assessment of the optimum mix of these capabilities takes place at least once a year. This also informs the identification and assessment of suitable future candidates for the Board.

A summary of the key skills and capabilities of directors is set out below:

Capability

Key: ● Extensive ● Practiced ● Low

Board gender diversity

● Female 56%
● Male 44%

Description of capabilities

Board tenure

● 0-3 years 33%
● 3-6 years 22%
● 6-10+ years 45%

Board performance and evaluation

The Board aspires to a high level of performance from each director. The Chair is responsible for overseeing an annual review and evaluation of the Board's and each director's performance.

The process for conducting the review was adopted by the Board on recommendation from the Nomination Committee.

For this reporting period, the annual review process was facilitated by an external advisor and included feedback from all directors and senior management who interact frequently with the Board and Board Committees. The comprehensive review of the Board, Board Committees and directors incorporated surveys, stakeholder interviews and debrief sessions.

The Board was presented with a final board performance report, including a summary of results and feedback, in July 2024.

The Board considers how to continuously improve and action specific feedback received throughout the review. The Chair meets with each director at the conclusion of the review process and individual development plans are formulated and discussed where appropriate.

Director appointment, election and re-election

The selection, nomination and appointment of non-executive directors involves a formal process undertaken by the Board with the assistance of the Nomination Committee. An executive search firm is engaged to assist in the process. The Nomination Committee assesses the skills, capabilities and experience required for filling a Board vacancy or an additional appointment, which informs the identification of suitable candidates. Woolworths Group undertakes appropriate background checks on candidates prior to their appointment to the Board.

All non-executive directors receive a formal letter of appointment in their personal capacity that sets out their duties, the Group's expectations, and the terms and conditions of their appointment.

Newly appointed non-executive directors must stand for election at the next AGM following their appointment. In addition, the Woolworths Group Constitution requires that at each AGM, non-executive directors who have held office for at least three years without re-election, or beyond the third AGM following their appointment or last election (whichever is longer) must retire from office, but may be eligible to stand for re-election.

A recommendation that the Board supports an existing non-executive director standing for re-election is not automatic. Potential candidates for the Board, as well as non-executive directors standing for re-election, are each assessed against a number of factors, including but not limited to:

- expertise, skills, experience, perspectives and personal qualities and attributes that will best complement the skill set and characteristics of existing directors and enhance Board effectiveness
- potential conflicts of interest and independence
- diversity (in its broadest sense) of Board composition
- capacity to devote the necessary time and commitment to the role
- other relevant information based on appropriate background checks, regulatory approvals and references.

The Notice of AGM sets out the Board's assessment of these matters for each non-executive director standing for election or re-election.

Board renewal and succession

Board succession planning is ongoing and is supported by the Nomination Committee. Applying a structured renewal process allows the Board to continue to be fit for purpose and have a balance of experience and fresh perspectives. Individual directors continue to contribute a range of different perspectives to the Board's collective discussions.

On 21 February 2024, the Board announced the retirement of Brad Banducci as Managing Director and Group CEO effective 31 August 2024, and the appointment of Amanda Bardwell as Managing Director and Group CEO, effective 1 September 2024.

Director induction and development

Each new non-executive director is required to complete an induction program with management. The induction program includes site visits and store walks to provide an understanding of how stores and other facilities operate, and expectations of customers.

The induction process also includes briefings from the CEO, Group Executive Committee members and Company Secretary, outlining the Group's structure, strategy, business operations, material risks, and our team members and Board practices and procedures.

Directors also participate in continuing education, training and development programs throughout the year. A mix of internal and external training is provided and designed to improve each director's strategic oversight capability and insight into the business. All directors receive training on the Group's legal and governance framework.

The Group operates a program of digital and physical showcases for directors throughout the year. The program provides directors, particularly those based outside Australia, with better insights into innovation, key businesses across the Woolworths Group retail ecosystem, emerging issues and site operations.

Director independence

The Board reviews the interests notified by directors regularly, and formally assesses non-executive director independence annually. The Board has determined that each non-executive director was independent throughout the reporting period.

Non-executive directors are considered to be independent where they are independent of management and free of any business or other relationship that could, or could reasonably be perceived to, materially interfere with their capacity to bring independent judgement to bear on issues before the Board and to act in the best interests of the Group and its shareholders.

As part of the formal independence assessment, the Board considered all business relationships and close personal ties between Woolworths Group and any companies of which a non-executive director is an employee, director or substantial shareholder.

The Board is satisfied that all declared business relationships were either not material to both parties or the director was not involved in decisions about those relationships. Where there is an independence indicator, including any close personal relationships, the non-executive director is required to substantiate to the Nomination Committee that their independence is not compromised.

The Board also formally reviews the non-Woolworths Group commitments of each non-executive director in the context of confirming their ability to continue to devote sufficient time to carry out their responsibilities. A non-executive director wishing to accept a new role that could impact on their time commitment to Woolworths Group must notify the Chair in advance of accepting the appointment.

The Nomination Committee will then conduct a reassessment of that non-executive director's independence following any such appointment.

Conflicts of interest

Directors are not involved in decisions where they have, or could be perceived to have, a conflict of interest or a material personal interest.

Any director who considers they may have a conflict of interest or a material personal interest in any matter concerning the Group must declare it immediately.

The Company Secretary monitors all such information coming to the Board and the Board Committees. Potential conflicts are flagged with the affected director and the Chair.

Independent advice

The Board, Board Committees and individual directors may seek external professional advice at the Group's expense. If appropriate, the advice may be made available to all directors.

Board Charter

The Board Charter sets out the role of the Board and how it exercises its powers and responsibilities. Certain authorities are delegated to the Board Committees. The Charter also defines the relationship and interaction between the Board and management, including the matters reserved to the Board.

The allocation of duties in the Charter between the Board and Board Committees was considered and reviewed by the Board during the reporting period. The Board Charter is available on the Group's website.

Company Secretary

The Company Secretary is accountable directly to the Board, through the Chair, on all matters to do with the proper functioning of the Board and Board Committees. All directors have access to the services and advice of the Company Secretary.

Board Committees

There are five Board Committees to assist the Board in exercising its responsibilities and to provide it with recommendations and advice. Each Board Committee has a charter that defines its role, authority and responsibilities. The Board Committee charters are available on the Group's website. At the next scheduled Board meeting after a Board Committee meeting, the Committee Chair provides an update on matters considered by their Committee. All directors have access to all Board and Committee papers and minutes of each meeting. The number of Board and Board Committee meetings held in the reporting period, including director meeting attendance, is set out in the Directors' Report in Woolworths Group's 2024 Annual Report. An overview of the members, composition and responsibilities of each Board Committee for the reporting period is set out below.

Senior executive performance and remuneration

Woolworths Group undertakes appropriate checks before the appointment of all senior executives. The CEO and each senior executive have entered a written contract with the Group, setting out the terms and conditions of their appointment, including remuneration entitlements and performance requirements.

The Group's assessment of remuneration reflects a relationship between management performance, consequence management and outcomes. The People Committee monitors the progress against the Group Short Term Incentive (STI) and Long Term Incentive (LTI) targets throughout the year. Events that could or should have a material impact on STI or LTI outcomes are discussed promptly.

The following process was followed in relation to the F24 reporting period, notably to prevent performance-based remuneration outcomes that reward conduct contrary to the Group's values or risk appetite, and in accordance with guidance from ASIC's Corporate Governance Taskforce and the ASX Principles:

- a review was conducted of the Group's F24 performance, and an assessment made of the matters the People Committee and Board wished to consider in relation to F24 STI and F22-24 LTI outcomes based on the adjustment principles previously endorsed by the People Committee and adopted by the Board
- the Chief Legal Officer (CLO), Chief Risk Officer (CRO), Chief People Officer and Head of Internal Audit reviewed all potentially significant risk or compliance matters arising over the F24 reporting period and prepared a risk review paper for consideration in connection with the F24 STI and F22-24 LTI outcomes, including the potential application of malus
- a written performance review and incentive outcome recommendation was made by the CEO to the Board in relation to each of his executive direct reports. This incorporates the CEO's assessment of the matters set out in the risk review paper
- these reviews were presented to the People Committee (with all directors in attendance). The People Committee made the final determination of its recommendations to the Board after reviewing the matters set out in the risk review and proposed Group outcomes without management present
- a written review and recommendation was provided by the Chair to the Board in relation to the CEO's performance, following People Committee discussion of the CEO's written self-assessment
- no member of management was present during discussion of their remuneration, or the CEO's performance or remuneration review by the Board.

Further details of senior executive performance and remuneration are set out in the 2024 Remuneration Report.

Shareholder engagement

Shareholders and other stakeholders are informed of all material matters affecting Woolworths Group through ASX announcements, periodic communications and a range of forums and publications, available on the Group's website. In line with our ambition to communicate with shareholders in a responsible way that minimises our carbon footprint, we encourage shareholders to provide their email addresses where possible so we may communicate with them electronically.

The Group's website contains a range of information that may be useful to shareholders. Information most likely to be of interest is available under the Investors tab and includes the Group's published reports, financial results and presentations, webcasts, share price updates, dividend history, shareholder meeting details, material ASX announcements and answers to shareholders' frequently asked questions.

The Group provides regular email notifications of major events or periodic corporate reporting, including results announcements, and has a number of initiatives in place to facilitate shareholder participation, engagement and communication. During F24 this included:

- encouraging shareholders to provide their questions ahead of the AGM to help us further understand shareholder issues and concerns
- publishing a transcript and webcast of the AGM on the Group's website
- regular releases of financial information, including quarterly sales and half year and full year results
- access to listen live to Group briefings to analysts
- publishing recordings of past briefings and shareholder videos on the Group's website.

Woolworths Group will adopt a hybrid format for its 2024 AGM, with the AGM being held physically in Sydney with online participation via an online platform which enables all shareholders to attend regardless of location.

The Group has an investor relations program to facilitate effective two-way communications with analysts, investors, proxy advisors and the media. The Chair of the Board, Chair of the People Committee and Chair of the Sustainability Committee meet with shareholders and proxy advisors periodically to allow them to provide Board-level feedback on the Group's governance, performance, remuneration programs and sustainability plan.

The Group participates in a range of external investor surveys of Board effectiveness, governance and social responsibility. Copies of any presentations or materials prepared for the purposes of briefing investors or analysts are released to the ASX ahead of the presentations where they contain any substantive information not covered in a prior disclosure to the market.

Continuous disclosure

Woolworths Group has established processes to enable the Group to provide shareholders and the market generally with timely, direct and equal access to relevant information.

The Group's continuous disclosure policy aims to:

- achieve compliance with continuous disclosure regulatory requirements
- clarify accountability of Woolworths Group's senior executives
- promote investor confidence in the integrity of Woolworths Group and its securities.

The continuous disclosure policy prescribes which announcements require Board approval, and outlines the processes for the Disclosure Committee to consider matters that may be price sensitive. This includes consultation with the Chair of the Board, or in their absence, the Chair of the Audit and Finance Committee.

The Board is provided with a copy of all material announcements promptly following release to the market.

The Continuous Disclosure Policy was reviewed in November 2021 and is available on the Group's website at www.woolworthsgroup.com.au under the tab About Us/Corporate Governance.

Inclusion and belonging

At Woolworths Group we recognise the value our team’s diversity brings to our business, our customers and the communities in which we operate. As one of the largest employers in Australia and New Zealand, we are committed to creating a safe and inclusive workplace, where diversity in all its forms is valued, and where every team member can be their best self.

The Group’s inclusion and belonging strategy focuses on five pillars: gender equity, First Nations inclusion, disability inclusion, cultural inclusion and LGBTQ+ inclusion; recognising the intersectionality of our team and communities and that people identify in multiple ways. The activities of each strategic pillar are led by an executive sponsor and guided by team member networks, ensuring the voices of those with lived experience are consulted and heard.

The People Committee oversees the development and implementation of the strategy and monitors and reviews its effectiveness through external benchmarks and internal targets. We use best practice benchmarking tools administered by external organisations to guide and assess our progress and we will continue to adapt and evolve our strategy and will continually review and improve our efforts to achieve top tier status in external benchmarking assessments.

Broad and active support for inclusion within our teams and communities is demonstrated through participation in various inclusion events such as International Women’s Day, National Reconciliation Week, Harmony Week, Ramadan, NAIDOC Week, International Day Against Homophobia, Biphobia, Intersexism and Transphobia (IDAHOBIT Day), Celebrate Neurodiversity Week, International Day of People with Disability and the UN Day for the Elimination of Racial Discrimination.

Our Sustainability Plan 2025 is key to delivering on our goal of creating a truly inclusive workplace, which is outlined specifically in the People pillar of the plan. As detailed in the table below, the Group has made progress in the last year across a number of its commitments under the first People goal.

GOAL	COMMITMENT	PROGRESS	COMMENTARY
Be a truly inclusive workplace 	We value inclusion and build diverse teams where everyone can belong.	●●●○	Women represent 41% senior leadership roles (L4–6) in Australia and 41.2% in New Zealand, 56% of the Woolworths Group Board. In Australia 2.4% of our team identify as Aboriginal and/or Torres Strait Islander people, and in New Zealand 11.2% of the team are Māori and Pasifika.
	We will ensure that we are progressing against our commitments by benchmarking ourselves against externally validated standards. We aim to:
	Achieve WGEA Employer of Choice for Gender Equality citation supported by gender pay parity for like-for-like roles.	●●●●	Woolworths Group continues to be recognised by the Workplace Gender Equality Agency (WGEA) as Employer of Choice for Gender Equality in Australia. Our last pay parity review for like-for-like roles showed we maintained <1% pay gap in Australia and New Zealand.
	Achieve Platinum Employer Status in the Australian Workplace Equality Index (AWEI) for LGBTQ+ inclusion, and in New Zealand maintain Rainbow Tick certification for five years with a ranking of ‘fully achieved with continuous improvement’.	●●●●	Our ongoing commitment to LGBTQ+ inclusion enabled the delivery of two key commitments in our 2025 Sustainability Goals; achieving Platinum Employer status in the Australian Workplace Equality Index (AWEI), and maintaining Rainbow Tick Accreditation in New Zealand for five years.
	Create and implement a Disability Action Plan and submit to the Australian Network on Disability Access and Inclusion Index, with year-on-year improvement.	●●○○	We delivered our first submission to the Accessibility Tick in New Zealand, receiving recognition as an accredited organisation in F24, with more work to do to demonstrate year-on-year improvement in future submissions. In F24 we made our inaugural submission to the Australian Disability Network’s Access and Inclusion Index, with the findings informing the development of the first Group-wide Disability Inclusion Action Plan, which is continuing to be finalised.
	New Zealand: Achieve year-on-year improvement against the nine competency areas of the Accessibility Tick Program.
	Implement our innovate Reconciliation Action Plan (RAP) and continue our commitment to reconciliation in Australia by developing a Stretch RAP. This includes support for the Uluru Statement from the Heart.	●●●○	We continued to implement the deliverables outlined in our innovate Reconciliation Action Plan, which was launched in 2023. To support the approach, we have developed a comprehensive First Nations Employment roadmap across the Group, covering targeted recruitment, leadership and cultural safety initiatives.

Gender equity

As we strive for a culture of inclusion where team members of all genders are valued and respected, we continue to focus on the key strategic levers that drive equity. In February 2024 the Workplace Gender Equality Agency (WGEA) published the gender pay gaps for private sector employers with 100 or more employees for the first time. Woolworths Group reported a gender pay gap of 5.7% median on both base and total remuneration, compared to the Australian median total remuneration gender pay gap of 19% (14.5% median base salary). While this result reflects the ongoing progress we are making to close the gender pay gap, we acknowledge we need to continue to do more to drive positive change.

Our gender equity strategy continues to focus on gender balance in leadership roles, addressing role design, talent attraction and talent development in order to promote equitable inclusivity. An intersectional lens is being applied across Women in Leadership through our RISE program. This program, developed in partnership with Chief Executive Women, Diversity Council Australia, and Settlement Services International, aims to empower Culturally and Racially Marginalised (CARM) women by centring their voices, dismantling systemic barriers to their advancement, and creating pathways to leadership roles. By addressing gendered racism and fostering a supportive environment, we aim to create opportunities for CARM women to thrive and succeed within Woolworths Group. Through collaborative efforts and targeted interventions, we are committed to driving meaningful change and promoting inclusivity across all levels of our workforce.

Woolworths Group's workplace profile covering the 2023 calendar year, as included in the Group's most recent report to the WGEA, is set out in the table to the right.

	WOMEN AS A PERCENTAGE OF TOTAL
Board	56%
Other executives/General managers	36%
Head of business	54%
Executive key management personnel	67%
Senior managers	43%
Other managers	45%
Team members (non-managers)	55%

First Nations inclusion

Woolworths Group remains committed to working towards reconciliation where First Nations people have equitable access to the essential products, services and opportunities they need to truly thrive for a better tomorrow. Our Reconciliation strategy is focused on advancing First Nations inclusion across four key areas, including employment, health, education and sourcing. Our innovate level Reconciliation Action Plan (RAP), which was launched in 2023, outlines the actions and commitments which will help us achieve our ambitions.

We continue to be supported by our First Nations Advisory Board, which was formed in 2021. The eight-member board has 75% First Nations representation, and comprises a combination of Woolworths Group team members, both Indigenous and non-Indigenous, and external Indigenous business leaders. Our Advisory Board provides guidance on our actions towards reconciliation and provides advice on matters related to Indigenous Affairs within the Group and within Indigenous communities.

Disability inclusion

We remain focused on increasing the removal of societal barriers faced by our team and customers in experiencing Woolworths Group as an inclusive place to work and shop. Our Disability Team Network, which was established in May 2023, was expanded to New Zealand and continues to help guide and shape the development of the Group's workplace adjustments policy and processes through an understanding of team members with lived experiences.

During the year we made a submission to the Australian Disability Network's Access and Inclusion Index, with the findings informing the development of the first Group-wide Disability Inclusion Action Plan, which is continuing to be finalised.
